Fire-retardant paint first to protect homes from extreme fire conditions

A partnership between UNSW Sydney and Flame Security International has produced BAL-40 accredited FSA FIRECOAT paint that could help prevent the spread of bushfires. FSA FIRECOAT, which is the first in Australia to pass the stringent BAL-40 test. A new fire-retardant paint, formulated by engineers at UNSW Sydney, has become the first to pass a stringent Australian standard test that simulates a bushfire attack.

Scaling up SunDrive's advanced solar PV manufacturing

The Australian Renewable Energy Agency \(ARENA\) has today announced $11 million in funding to Australian solar technology company SunDrive Solar to expand its novel solar cell metallisation technology from prototype scale (1.5 MW/yr) to commercial capacity (>100 MW/yr). SunDrive has developed a cell metallisation technology that uses copper, a metal that is approximately 100x cheaper and 1000x more abundant than commonly used silver. , Silver accounts for approximately half the cost of converting a bare silicon wafer into a finished solar cell.

University of Sydney launches new robotics hub

The University of Sydney has launched the Australian Robotic Inspection and Asset Management Hub \(ARIAM\) which researchers say will transform the way important assets are handled. ARIAM's work will reduce the need for people to enter dangerous or hazardous locations to maintain assets such as tunnels and underwater infrastructure. It will also help manage the looming 'infrastructure cliff', which will see many post-World War II infrastructure assets approach their end of life

Supply Chain Collaboration Report

Supply chain collaboration can be time-consuming, difficult, and seem impossible to start at times. But it remains one of the important strategic topics for suppliers and retailers in 2023 and beyond. RELEX conducted a survey-based research to understand how and why 283 suppliers collaborate with their retail customers. Use our analysis to improve collaborative processes with the latest supply chain insights, and recommended best practices

AUKUS Workforce Alliance announced

A consortium of UNSW Sydney, the University of Adelaide and Curtin University, as well as defence contractors Babcock Australasia and Huntington Ingalls Industries – collectively known as the AUKUS Workforce Alliance \(AWA\) – has been announced, coinciding with the first day of the 2023 Indo Pacific International Maritime Expo.

New collaboration aims to revolutionise Australia's tyre waste problem

With only 15% of our 500,000 tonnes of end-of-life tyres being repurposed in Australia, it is time we focused on our own rubber revolution. Tyre Stewardship Australia \(TSA\) in collaboration with Clark Rubber are calling out to Australian manufacturers, innovators, entrepreneurs, polymer experts and other relevant businesses to demonstrate how rubber from end-of-life tyres can be used as an ingredient to new products.

Senior Card November 2023

I am pleased to announce this year's free NSW Seniors Christmas concerts will be held in Orange, Tamworth and Wagga Wagga. The concerts are the Government's way to thank you for your valued and ongoing contributions to society. Visit the website to find out more information and book your tickets. If you're aged 50 and over, I encourage you to book an appointment for a free breast screen. It takes only 20 minutes and can be done at your nearest screening centre.
